Lightly Weighted Philo Beats The Lady in Gentilly Handicap-Honolulu, Favorite. Beaten and Inquiry Follows Storm Causes Many Scratches.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10 .- The storm of this morning left the course in very poor shape and there were scratches galore. The Gen-tilly Handicap, at six and a half furlongs, was the feature of the afternoon. Even this race did not escape the blue pencil, as this race did not escape the blue pencil, as four of the original twelve entries declined the issue, including McChesney. Although it rained all during the afternoon it did not prevent a large crowd from witnessing the

The stake race was the fourth on the card. The Lady carried 121 pourds, but that did not prevent her a mirers from betting on her. Riley Grannan, the plunger, freely laid 5 to 1 against her. Philo, on account of her light impost, was made the fivorite at 3 to 1 and was heavily played. The start was delayed for some time by the bad acting of Wealth. When the field was finally sent away, Scorpio, Wealth and McDaniels were off in front, while The Lady was the last one to leave the post. At the eighth pole Pillo chal-lenged for the lead and won going away by two lengths. The Lady managed to g t up in time to secure the place by a nose from Frank Foster, who received a poor

Rough Rider, who fluished second in the first race, was claimed by Ed Trotter and immediately sold to Tommy Griffin at a $200 profit. Maghoni was sold shortly before the immediately sold to Tommy Griffin at a $200 profit. Maghoni was sold shortly before the race began to Arnold & Co. The price paid was not given out. The new owners of Maghoni more than won her out, as they bet something like $10,000 on her in the local ring and the progrooms throughout America. She was in the fifth race and made a show out of her field, winning in a gallop.

After the races the stewards suspended Jockey Helgerson from all privileges until further notice for unsatisfactory riding. The stewards have had Helgerson up before them on numerous occasions during the past two weeks. To-night it was learned that the sheets of a certain book were called for by the stewards after the Honolulu race. Steward McDonald refused to say whether any sheets were examined or not. In the second race Honolulu was made the oddson fivorite, but the best he could do was to finish second. Amicari, the second choice, after letting The Pride of Surrey and Honolulu race themselves to pieces in front, assumed command at the head of the stretch and won galloping by two lengths. Honolulu secure d the place from Pride of Surrey in a hard drive by a length.

The third race witnessed the downfall of the favorite, Sheriff Bell, through hard racing luck. He was cut off at the three-eights pole just as he was making his run and tenshed third. The winner turned up in St. Tammany, who got home a length in front of Brief. After the betting had been posted on this race the stewards decided to take down Helgerson and substitute Redfern on Sheriff Bell.

Conservative racing men say that the shortening of the various meetings will serve to increase the interest in the sport because of the changes of track and conditions. The Metropolitan Jockey Club's track has been completed. It has cost the pro-moters close to $300,000 and is up to date in all respects. The management of it will probably be turned over to Philip J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club whose experience augurs well for the success of the new racecourse. A report from Memphis says that Ed Corrican, the well-known Chicago turfman, will be allowed to race at Eastern tracks this senson, if he applies to the Jockey Club for a license. Corrigan, has not raced here since 1811 when his two-year-old Huron, after finishing second to His Highness in the Enturity, was disqualified because it was found that he was inclusible to start.

Milton Henry, the American Jockey whose license was revoked by the French Jockey Club, sailed yesterday for France to consult his counsel, the famous Labori, about the suit that he has instituted in the French courts to have the Jockey Club show cause why his license was taken away. The reason given by the Jockey Club was unprofessional riding. Henry said yesterday before sailing that he bad every reason to believe that the suit would result favorably for him in showing that the Jockey Club acted unjustly and said that he expected to start for home by Feb. 1. He had made no plans for the coming racing season, he said.

Big Throng on Skates in Prospect Park. For the first time this winter the ice on the smaller chain of lakes in Prospect Park, Prooklyn, was sufficiently thick to permit of the lakes being thrown open for skating yes-terday morning. In the afternoon there was fully 10,000 persons enjoying their first skate of the season on the park lakes. Toward evening Park Commissioner Young ascer-tained that the ice on the larger lake was tained that the ice on the larger lake was sufficiently strong and he gave orders that this should also be opened to the skaters, in all, thirty-two acres of skating surface was utilized by the young people yesterday, and last night for the first time in the history of the park the lakes were lighted by electricity. Heretofore kerosene oil lamps have been used to light the lakes at night, but during the summer poles were erected around, the lakes and the electric lamps were put in service. The ice averaged five and a half inches in thickness. Police Captain McNamara and his men were on duty to handle the large crowd.

Devotees of "Scotland's ain sport," the Devotees of "Scotland's ain sport," the royal and roarin' game of ourling, made merry yesterday at Van Cortlandt Lke over the annual bonspiel for the Dalrymple medal. It was the twenty-sixth match for the trophy between players from the North and South of Scotland. With this prize there are two other trophies. The Hoagland flig goes to the skip on either side having the highest majority of shots over his opponent, and this was won by Robert Ellin of the Yonkers Curling Club, who skipped on rink No. 5 for the south, his score being 29, to 10 for J. McMillan, his opponent. The Kirkpatrick medal for the skip with the second highest majority of shots fell to A. Pratt ond highest majority of shots fell to A. Pratt of the Van Cortlandt Curling Club and South, of the Van Cortlandt Curling Club and South, whose score was 28, to 10 for his opponent, the veteran David Foulis. It was Foulis's twenty-sixth year and though his men were defeated the old man played with a vigor and dash not excelled by any man on his side. The Dalrymple medal itself was finally won by the South, the to 'score being 107 to 61 shots for the North, but of the number of games played this makes fifteen victories for the Lowlanders.

The ice was good and keen and what the Scotchmen call "kleg" ice and was so lively of the trotting classes of the week. The records of the judging reveal that or Monday Ruritania won in Class 13, in which Mr. Hoffman did not have an entry. Wed-nesday Mr. Hoffman's Vida Wilkes and White mr. Hoffman du hot hate an entry. Med mesday Mr. Hoffman's Vida Wilkes and White Mark won in Class 14, Mr. Stotesbury's Litka and Ladrona being second. Thursday Ruritania and Dainty Daffo won in Class 16, with Vida Wilkes and White Mark second and Litka and Ladrona third. Class 15, over which the discussion is waged, was judged at 2:40 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Ruritania winning and Vida Wilkes being second. An hour later Ruritania had a walkover in the championship class for roadsters, but two hours later in the championship class for roadster pairs, Dr. Webb won with Ruritania and Dainty Daffo, from Mr. Hoffman, who was placed reserve with Vida Wilkes and White Mark.

Dr. G. M. Webb, manager of Mr. Stotesbury's Winoga Stock Firm. Chestnut Hill Pa., has issued the Iollowing statement:

There also will be for each of the Northe Abig kick has been registered by the There always will be it in an interest and matter with some to growl, ascribe motives and influsivity of the second premium over the award of viring the ribbon to Ruritania, at the last National Here Show in the championship class. Coming so many weeks after the show closed, and on the eye of the January auction, where this champion mare will be sold with her mate to the high-st bidder, it may be all right and a wise and proper move for those that wish to own the greatest trotting team in America. Nothing like depressing the market when you want to buy—that's business. But it won't work in this case. The public are too well informed about the superfor merit of this mare, and the cry of "sour grapes" will not avail. Neither the detractions of the envious, nor the voice of the "sale knocker" will mislead to any great extent. These things are entirely too diaphanous for even the most suilible to take any stock in.

I will furthermore s is that Ruritania and Dainty Daffo are absolutely sound and cleen, and I will match them for any amount against Mr. Hoffman's team, to show double or single at any time before the sale, for soundness, manners, conformation and speed. Mr. Hoffman may name the sum he is willing to stabe.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS DISCUSSED. Delegates Agree That Professional Clause Is Too Exacting-Yale Stays Away.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 10 - The annual inter-CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 10—The annual inter-collegiate athletic conference was held here to-day. The session was the fifth that has been held since Brown organized the confer-ence. There were present to-day, besides the Harvard athletic committee the follow-ing representatives: Dean Makeljohn of Brown: Profs. Kemp and Kircawey of Columbia; Prof. Dennis of Cornell; Mr. Geyelin of Pennsylvania, and Prof. Fine of Princeton. The conference was held in the Harvard Union. The entire meeting was given to the discussion of the professional clause in the eligibility rules. The rule as it now stands in a long cumbersome thing, and allows a great many interpretations. It was the unanimous opinion that the rule should be used shorter, and that many of the technical points should be elio trated.

and that many of the technical points should be elio insted

All of the representatives agreed that many men who have been ruled out of athletics recently were amateurs to all intents and purposes and that these should be allowed to compete. They believed that more discretion should be given to the college athletic committees in deciding each case on its individual merits. The discussion resulted in the appointing of a committee consisting of Prof Hollis of Harvard, Prof. Fine of Princeton and Prof. Dennis of Cornell. This committee was instructed to draw up a new rule and report at the next meeting of the conference, which will probably be held at Cornell on Memorial Day next spring.

Yale was not represented at the conference. An invitation was sent to Walter Camp, but he did not appear.

Tommy Ryan Answers Jack O'Brien. Tommy Ryan filed an answer relative to the offer made to him by Jack Hermann of the International A. C. of Fort Eric to meet Jack O'Brien in a 20-round contest. The club has offered $6,500 for the encounter The club has offered $8,500 for the encounter and O brien has already accepted. Ryan has notified Hermann that he will let him know by next Wednesday whether he will neet O Brien at Fort Erie. Ryan is already dickering with other clubs to see now much money they will give for the scrap. Ryan declares that if he does agree to meet O brien at Fort Erie the mill will have to be held about the latter part of next month, as Ryan expects to ox Root in March.

FIGHTERS WANT NEW CLASS. Al Smith's Suggestion Regarding Pugillet Who Weigh Between 158 and 172 Pounds.

There is some talk of arranging a new class for pugilists, and already steps are under way to make the plan a certainty. The standard classes and which have been recog-nized for years are: Bantam, featherweight, lightweight, welterweight, middleweight and heavyweight. The bantam class is up to heavyweight. The bantam class is up to 115 pounds, the featherweight from 115 to 122 pounds, lightweight from 122 to 133 pounds, welterweight from 133 to 142 pounds, middleweight from 142 to 158 pounds, and then the heavyweight division. However, during the past eight years fighters who are either too heavy or too light to be placed in their proper class have made special weights, much to the detriment and confusion of the sport.

In this country there are a number of pugi-

In this country there are a number of pugi-lists who find it a difficult task to reduce be-low 158 pounds, the middleweight limit, or to fight above 172 pounds. Although they are practically heavyweights they feel as though it is asking tham too much to taskle and give it is asking them too much to tackle and give away weight to such big men as Tom Sharkey, Jim Jeffries, Gus Ruhlin, Denver Ed Martin, Rob Armstrong, Jack Monroe and Peter Ma-Jim Jeffries, Gus Ruhlin, Denver Ed Martin, Rob Armstrong, Jack Monroe and Peter Maher, who weigh in condition over 180 pounds. Marvin Hart, "Kid" Carter, Joe Choynski, George Gardner, Jack Root, Kid McCoy, Billy Stift, Al Weinig, George Beyers, Morgan Williams and several others do not weigh more than 172 pounds and cannot get under the middleweight limit, no matter how hard they train. These boxers say that there should be a new class established to be known as "stoneweight." Al Smith when ask d his opinion as to the proposed classification said: "In the old days the matter of a few pounds was no obstacle in arranging matches A fighter who had any faith in his powers and skill would not let weight, size or reach deter him. But with the progress of time the game has changed and in my opinion the suggestion is a good on. Nowadays the public likes to see two men evenly matched. The difference of weight has proyed to be a big factor in deciding matches and if the new class can remedy the evil so much the better. One-sided fights do not elevate he sport. On the other hand it makes a battle listless uninteresting and sometimes brutal. The men in the middleweight class always kick against meeting heavier opponents yet there are so few in this division that in order to secure scraps the tilts must be decided at catch thereby keeping the rightful ownership of the tile in doubt. This is an important division and the evil should be remedied. The other classes are all right and there should be no change. Although Tommy Ryan is looked upon as the middleweight champion he can reduce to 143 pounds in a pinch. I don't blame him for refusing to meet men weighing about twenty pounds heavier do you? The new class should be established and the weights suggested would no doubt answer the purpose."

BOTHNER HURTS SHOULDER. Lightweight Champion's Future Career on Mat Threatened.

The future of George Bothner's career as vrestler will depend upon a physical ex-mination which will be made in a few days. of late the lightweight champion has been troubled with pains in the left shoulder blade to such an extent that at times he has been unable to move his arms or hold his hands above his head. He has had the member massaged on several occasions, but to no avail. Yesterday afternoon one of his pupils, a local physician, examined the shoulder and found that it had been much strained and found that it had been much strained. He advised Bothner to have the X-rays placed on his back so as to find out the exact nature of the trouble.

Bothner is worrying a good deal over the injury, and hopes that the X-rays will not reveal auxthing that will incapacitate him from appearing on the mat in future. "About two years ago I burt my shoulder," said Bothner to The Sun reporter, "but it did not trouble me until recently. On the night of the Jenkins match I felt some shooting pain, which seemed to double me up every time I turned on my stomach. I hope that I won't be ye to retire, as I am in great shape now otherwise and have several important matches on. My physician to its several important matches on. My physician to its matches to fix me up all right if no bones are broken."

Bothner is at present matched to meet Eberhard Halm, August Faust and Leo Pardello. His contest with the latter is slated for next Wednesday night at the New Polo A C. George thinks that he will be able to go on.
